Reflection ~ Nelson Mandela

I always knew that deep down in every human heart, there is mercy and generosity. No one is born hating another person because of the colour of his skin, or his background, or his religion. People must learn to hate, and if they can learn to hate, they can be taught to love, for love comes more naturally to the human heart than its opposite. Even in the grimmest times in prison, when my comrades and I were pushed to our limits, I would see a glimmer of humanity in one of the guards, perhaps just for a second, but it was enough to reassure me and keep me going. Man's goodness is a flame that can be hidden but never extinguished.

Without darkness, we may never know how bright the stars shine.
Without battles, we could not know what victory feels like.
Without adversity, we may never appreciate the abundance in our lives.
Be thankful, not only for the easy times, but for every experience that has made you who you are. ~ Julia-Ann
