Just a thought:

The recent snowfall and inclement weather thwarted numerous plans, cancelled several events and left us in no doubt as to who has the upper hand when mother nature beckons ("the best laid plans of mice and men") can be obscuttled in the wink of an eye, leaving communities to deal with the fall out, and sending emergency services into high alert. While daunting and challenging, consolation can be taken from the fact that, this intrusion in our daily lives is relative and temporary and will pass. It pales in insignificance to the ongoing suffering and misery in war torn countries and areas like Gaza. Time and tide waits for no one, so as we batten down the hatches and feel hard done by let us spare a thought for the oppressed and brow beaten both at home and the world wide, and in their name to resolve to practice kindness daily and consciously make a decision to benefit from every ounce of happiness and enjoyment we can glean from our short lives. The glass is always half full, snow or no snow, if we want it to be.

*So "carpe diem" (snatch the day)
before its too late.*

THANKS

This week will be remembered for a long time both for the good and the bad. Let's concentrate on the good the good friends, the neighbours, the good will and the good hearts, kindness and smiles that these last seven days sent our way. Quite often it takes days like the ones that are just past to bring out the best in us. Whether it was a tractor coming to the door to bring ones to the shop or Mass, whether it was dropping off messages to the housebound or sick or whether it was just a note or a phone call, whether it was someone clearing the snow for others to travel - our community here in Boherbue/Kiskeam should be proud of it self...Well done and thank you to all concerned.
